PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT WORTH $1.2 MILLION

ORDERED BY HOUSING AUTHORITY

Playground equipment valued at almost $350,000 has been ordered for public housing estates so far this year.

A Housing Authority spokesman said there were 10 different types of equipment, including slides, activity equipment, see-saws, swings and roundabouts.

He said more than 100 of the items had already been installed in 13 estates and an additional 120 were on order. These would arrive early next year and be installed in 11 estates.

The spokesman said a further order was about to be placed for supplying a total of 476 items at a cost of more than $870,000, bringing the total cost of playground equipment installed or ordered this year by the Housing Authority to more than $1.2 million.

The orders have been awarded to a leading playground equipment manufacturer in Britain.
