Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport).

These regulations introduce into the law relating to the New Territories provisions similar to those contained in Parts I to V of the Conservancy By-laws, which apply to the urban areas and which deal with sanitation. The provisions of Part IV of the by-laws, which deal with the operation of public conservancy in the urban areas, have been incorporated in these regulations to cover certain areas because, as yet, public conservancy services can only be provided in those areas. However, these regulations are so arranged that their application can be extended to additional areas within the New Territories.

These regulations are made in substitution for the Conservancy (New Territories) Regulations, which are revoked by regulation 11.

Under the Dangerous Goods (General) Regulations a permit is required for the removal of any quantity of fireworks exceeding 50 lb. and the said regulations contain provisions relating to the carriage and storage of fireworks exceeding 50 lb. The effect of these amending regulations is to remove exemptions which apply to the removal, carriage and storage of quantities of fireworks of 50 lb. or less. Accordingly, from the 1st January 1969 (which will be the date upon which the Emergency (Firework) Regulations will be repealed) fireworks in any quantity whatsoever will be subject to the controls for which provision is made in the Dangerous Goods (General) Regulations.

Repeal of Emergency
(Firework)
Regulations.
(Cap. 241, sub. leg.)

Clerk of Councils.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,

10th December 1968.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the order, but is intended to indicate its general purport).

The Emergency (Firework) Regulations, which were enacted in 1967 mainly for the purpose of depriving those who made terrorist bombs of the material with which to make them, conferred power to seize fireworks, made provision as to payment of compensation to persons from whom fireworks were seized and required any person having fireworks in his possession, other than a person to whom a licence to store fireworks had been granted under the Dangerous Goods Ordinance, to notify the Commissioner of Mines or the officer in charge of any police station.

2. Those regulations enabled the Authorities to exercise the necessary control of fireworks in the circumstances existing at the time of their enactment. It is considered that adequate control can be exercised in relation to fireworks under the Dangerous Goods Ordinance and the regulations made thereunder.

3. Under section 6 of the Dangerous Goods Ordinance the manufacture, storage, conveyance or use of dangerous goods which includes fireworks is prohibited except under licence. Certain exceptions to that provision in relation to the conveyance and storage of quantities of fireworks of less than 50 lb. are contained in the Dangerous Goods (General) Regulations and those regulations are being amended, concurrently with the repeal effected by these regulations, to remove these exceptions and thereby subject any quantity of fireworks whatsoever to control.

4. Since adequate control of fireworks can be effected under the Dangerous Goods Ordinance these regulations accordingly repeal the Emergency (Firework) Regulations.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the order, but is intended to indicate its general purport).

This order specifies the equivalents in Hong Kong dollars of the amounts expressed in gold francs as the limits of the air carrier's liability under Article 22 of the Warsaw Convention 1929 as amended by the Hague Protocol 1955. In order that the limits of liability in Hong Kong and the United Kingdom will be identical, the Hong Kong dollar equivalents are determined by reference to the relevant sterling equivalents.

Approved this 28th day of November 1968.

Michael Hogan
Chief Justice.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the rules, but is intended to indicate their general purport).

The purpose of these rules is to bring up-to-date the principal rules which are at present largely based on the conditions applicable on 1st January 1963 in England and Wales to a student seeking to qualify for admission as a solicitor there. Since that date various alterations of these conditions have occurred in England and Wales, and these rules—principally rules 2, 4, 5, 8, 9 and 13—apply such of these alterations as seem appropriate and practicable to be introduced in Hong Kong.

2. Rule 2 prescribes in detail the procedure concerning the re-enrolment of a student. The present reference in rule 5(1) of the principal rules to a student not being “permitted” in certain circumstances to enter into articles until his re-enrolment is removed as inappropriate.

3. Rule 4 in revoking and replacing rule 9 of the principal rules brings the basic provisions thereof in regard to service and terms of articles into line with English practice, thereby necessitating consequential amendments of the Second Schedule to the principal rules which are effected by rule 14.

Rule 4 inter alia authorizes the Society to permit articulated clerkship in England and Wales to be reckoned as good service under articles. The reference to such clerkship in rule 6 of the principal rules is thereby superseded and is removed by rule 3.

4. Rule 5 amends rule 10(2) of the principal rules in order to confer upon the Society power to direct that certain service under articles, otherwise non-reckonable, may be reckoned as good service.

5. Rule 8 amends rule 16 of the principal rules in regard to the time when different classes of students may sit for the Part II examination.

6. Rule 9(c) introduces a new concept, namely, exemption from the Part II examination, and thereby necessitates amendment of rule 14 of the principal rules which is effected by rule 7. Rule 9(a) closes a gap in rule 17(1) of the principal rules.

7. The effect of rule 10 which revokes and replaces rule 19 of the principal rules is to sanction the issue through the Society or the English Law Society of documentary evidence of examination results. The revoked rule 19 made provision for the issue of such evidence through the English Law Society only.

8. Rule 11 is a declaratory provision, and rule 13 prescribes notices and other forms to be used in connexion with these rules.

9. Rule 12 extends rule 20(1) of the principal rules so as to recognize not only practice at the English Bar but also practice at the Bar anywhere in the United Kingdom, in Hong Kong and conditionally in other places. Such recognition follows the lines of a recent amendment of section 27(1) of the principal Ordinance.

10. The opportunity has also been taken of correcting typographical errors and omissions.

TELECOMMUNICATION (AMENDMENT) (NO. 2)

 "7. For restricted certificate of competency in radiotelephony $30". Amendment of Second Schedule. (Cap. 106, sub. leg.)
3. The Third Schedule to the principal regulations is amended by deleting the following forms— Amendment of Third Schedule.

 - (c) Certificate of Competency in Radiotelegraphy. Special Class.;
 - (d) Certificate of Competency in Radiotelephony.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
24th December 1968.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport).

These regulations prescribe the fee for a restricted certificate of competency in radiotelephony. The existing forms of certificates of competency in radiotelegraphy and radiotelephony in the Third Schedule were prescribed by the Governor in Council. Provision is made in the regulations for the Telecommunications Authority to determine the form of certificates and accordingly these forms will in future be determined by the Authority. The existing forms are deleted.
