QUESTIONS

1 Mr. Y. K. Kan to ask:

Will Government inform this Council what are the recommendations of Sir Charles Hartwell as a result of his examination of the organisation and method of operation of the Colonial Secretariat announced by the Colonial Secretary during the Budget Debate in March this year?

2 Mr. T. K. Ann to ask:

In view of the more frequent and serious traffic accidents on the Colony roads which have been reported during the past 8 months of 1968 than in the corresponding periods of 1966 and 1967, particularly in the New Territories, what more effective road safety measures has the Government under consideration especially in the context of a recent comment by the Commissioner of Transport on the possible legalisation of nine-seater vans?

3 Mr. Fung Hon-chu to ask:

In view of the spread of gambling in the city and in the New Territories in the wake of last year's disturbances, will the Government tell us what steps have been taken to eradicate this evil and how effective they have been?

4 Mr. Fung Hon-chu to ask:

In view of the recent press reports of attempts by a certain organisation to reactivate the issue of dog racing in the New Territories in spite of an earlier denial by a Government spokesman that there will be change of policy on gambling, will the Government set the public's minds at rest by an official statement from this Council?

5 Dr. S. Y. Chung to ask:

Will Government inform this Council about its plan and progress on the collection, compilation and publication of industrial production statistics?

6 Mr. Szeto Wai to ask:

Early last year it was reported that Government intended to lease certain sites in Kowloon and on the Island for the building and operation of multi-storey car-parks by private enterprise. May this Council now be informed when the sale of these sites will take place and, what will be the public parking accommodation required by the special lease conditions of these sites?

7 Mr. Wilson Wang to ask:

What is the amount of funds available each year to the undergraduate in need of aid, in the form of scholarships, bursaries and interest-free loans from Government, and has Government any plan in hand to allocate additional funds to be used as interest-free loans for this purpose?

8 Mr. Wilson Wang to ask:

What is the present position in regard to the supply of and the demand for qualified teachers in Physical Education in Primary and Secondary Schools? Has Government studied the need for and the feasibility of establishing a College for Physical Education and recreation to be managed by Government or in cooperation with some voluntary body or bodies in Hong Kong?

MOTION: STANDING ORDERS

The Colonial Secretary:

RESOLVED -

- (1) that the Standing Orders of the Legislative Council of Hong Kong made by the Legislative Council of Hong Kong on the 19th day of December, 1929, be revoked;
- (2) that the draft Standing Orders, laid on the Table of the Council on the 25th day of September, 1968, as amended by the list of amendments laid on the Table of the Council on the 9th day of October, 1968, be substituted therefor.

3 Mr. P. C. Woo to ask:

Since the institution of legal aid in civil cases what amount has been paid out from the public fund to date on behalf of legally aided persons and what amount has been recovered by way of contributions from such persons or otherwise?

4 Mr. P. C. Woo to ask:

What is the administrative cost to date to Government in civil legal aid cases?

5 Mr. P. C. Woo to ask:

Will Government consider the introduction of a requirement for contributions from legally aided persons in criminal cases as has been done in England?

6 Mr. Y. K. Kan to ask:

To what extent is the Government responsible for the activities of the Society for the Blind, and such other similar voluntary organisations which are subvented by Government, and what has been the cause of the recent complaints from the workers of that Society's factory?

7 Mr. Fung Hon-chu to ask:

Since the last Budget Debate at which it was indicated by Government that the composition of the Trade Development Council might be re-examined to permit of representation of the Exporters Association on the Council, will the Government inform this Council whether such a re-examination has taken place, and, if so, what decision it has arrived at?

QUESTIONS

1 Mr. P. C. Woo to ask:

In April 1965 in the debate on education policy the Honourable the Director of Education indicated that Government would defer the consideration to implement the Marsh/Sampson Report with respect to teachers' salaries. Is Government now in a position to inform this Council of any revision of the teachers' salaries?

2 Mrs. Ellen Li to ask:

How many raids have been carried out during the last 6 months on premises where missing girls were suspected of being, and how many eventually returned to their families?

3 Mrs. Ellen Li to ask:

How many prosecutions have been brought in the past six months for the offences of procuration of females, procuring the defilement of females or unlawful detention of females and what were the results of these prosecutions?

4 Mrs. Ellen Li to ask:

Is there any effective control over boarding houses, and premises which become a front for prostitution, apart from occasional raids by the Police?

5 Mr. T. K. Ann to ask:

Since manufacturing industry is the backbone of Hongkong's economy and design is an important element of any manufactured article, why is there no Design Registry in Hong Kong to assist local industries and cultivate local talents?

QUESTIONS

1 Mr. Fung Hon-chu to ask:

Will Government inform this Council whether there are any other reasons for the continued exclusion of the Exporters Association from ex-officio membership of the Trade Development Council than those given by my honourable Friend, the Director of Commerce and Industry at the last Budget Debate?

2 Mr. Wilson Wang to ask:

What progress has been made in planning for the construction of the indoor stadium and can Government now indicate a target date for its completion?

3 Mr. Szeto Wai to ask:

In view of the several serious fires occurring recently, will Government consider increasing the minimum fire-service installations and equipment at present prescribed for multi-storeyed buildings especially those for commercial and industrial uses?

4 Mr. P. C. Woo to ask:

What was the total amount of legal fees payable to the 9 counsel and the 9 firms of solicitors in the recent murder case in which 9 youths were charged with the murder of another youth in a gang fight? Why was it necessary to employ 9 counsel and 9 separate firms of solicitors in that case?

5 Mr. P. C. Woo to ask:

Referring to my speech during the debate on the second reading of the Legal Aid Bill in 1966, will Government invite an official from the Law Society in England who has experience of legal aid to come to Hong Kong on contract for a short period of, say, 2 or 3 years to act as adviser in helping to set up the machinery for the administration of legal aid in Hong Kong? Will Government consider the employment of an experienced officer on contract from England to be the Director of Legal Aid?

6 Mrs. Ellen Li to ask:

What precautionary measures are there to prevent stray animals and unauthorized persons from getting into the restricted areas in the airport?

7 Mrs. Ellen Li to ask:

Is there any plan in view to improve the traffic flow around the roundabout opposite the airport where vehicles criss cross one another in such chaotic conditions?

8 Mrs. Ellen Li to ask:

Is there any plan in sight for establishment of training/vocational facilities to prepare girls for employment in industries and is Government prepared to assist voluntary agencies financially to increase such facilities?

9 Mr. C. W. Lee to ask:

Since I am informed that the maximum effective height of the turn-table ladders used by our Fire Brigade is only 90 feet, what are the effective means of fighting fires that break out in premises of higher levels? As there are so many multi-storey commercial and residential buildings in the Colony, will the Government please comment on this matter as regards public safety as well as on the adequacy of the existing fire prevention installation requirements to cope with fire in the upper part of high buildings?

QUESTIONS

1 Mr. Wilfred Wong to ask :

As it will become a statutory requirement from 1st January 1969 for every boiler or steam receiver to be operated under the supervision of a competent person, is Government satisfied that there are sufficient competent persons available and, if not, what does it propose to do?

2 Mr. Szeto Wai to ask :

Some years ago I brought to the attention of this Council the hazards and unsightliness created by the projection of large advertisements and neon signs from buildings for considerable distances over roadways and was informed by the then Hon. Director of Urban Services that the Urban Council Advertisements Bye-Laws were in the course of being revised.

Will Government inform this Council what progress has since been made on the revision of these bye-laws, and what are the regulations now in force governing the installation of these signs with particular reference to their permissible distance of projection over roadways?

3 Mr. Wilson Wang to ask :

In view of the recent announcement by the University Grant Committee regarding control of proposed student numbers at our two Universities, can the Government say whether there will be any increased opportunities of higher education for those many young people who now need, in the interests of Hong Kong's development, a wide range of specialised courses at post-secondary level; and if so, how soon may a public statement be expected?

QUESTIONS

1 Dr. S. Y. Chung to ask :-

Will Government inform this Council the amount of increase on the enrolment (both in number and percentage) of the higher level technological and engineering (not commercial) courses at the Technical College after the removal of the lower level courses to the new Morrison Hill Technical Institute in early 1970?

2 Dr. S. Y. Chung to ask :-

Is it a fact that the Wool School at the Technical College which was erected with funds contributed by the International Wool Secretariat and local industry, is not being fully utilised and that (1) the technology course is running one year behind schedule and (2) the related courses are of reduced content because of lack of teaching staff?

3 Mr. P. C. Woo to ask :-
