apparatus, shall use that apparatus, or cause or permit it to be used, in contravention of the notice.

(5) Any person who contravenes the provisions of paragraph (4) shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable on summary conviction—

- (a) where the apparatus with respect to which the notice was given was sealed or a part of it was removed under and in accordance with paragraph (2), for the first such offence under this sub-paragraph, to a fine of one thousand dollars and to imprisonment for three months, and, for any subsequent such offence under this sub-paragraph to a fine of two thousand dollars and to imprisonment for six months; and
- (b) in any other case, for the first such offence under this sub-paragraph, to a fine of seven hundred and fifty dollars, and, for any subsequent such offence under this sub-paragraph, to a fine of one thousand five hundred dollars:

Provided that no person shall be convicted of an offence under this paragraph if it is made to appear to the court that at the time of the use of the apparatus in contravention of the notice an application had been made in writing to the Authority for revocation of the notice and that the Authority had, without reasonable cause (the burden of proof whereof shall be upon the Authority), failed or neglected to revoke the notice within a reasonable time after receipt of the application for revocation.

Entry and search of premises, etc.

6. Where a magistrate is satisfied by information on oath—

- (a) that there is reasonable ground for believing that, on any specified premises or in any specified vessel, aircraft or vehicle, apparatus to which these regulations apply is to be found which does not comply with the requirement applicable to it under these regulations; and
- (b) that it is necessary to enter those premises, or that vessel, aircraft or vehicle, and to examine or test any apparatus to which these regulations apply which may be found therein or thereon for the purpose of determining whether any such apparatus does or does not comply with the requirement applicable to it under these regulations; and
- (c) that, within fourteen days before the date of the application to such magistrate, access to the premises, vessel, aircraft or vehicle for the purpose aforesaid has been demanded by, or permission to examine any such apparatus as aforesaid which has been found therein or thereon has been requested by, the Authority or any public officer authorized in writing in that behalf by the Authority and producing sufficient documentary evidence of his identity and, in the case of a public officer authorized as aforesaid, of his authority, but in either case has been unreasonably refused, the magistrate may issue his warrant empowering the Authority or any public officer or officers authorized in writing in that behalf by the Authority and named in such authorization to enter the premises or, as the case may be, the vessel, aircraft or vehicle and any premises on which it may be and to search the premises, vessel, aircraft or vehicle with a view to discovering whether any apparatus to which these regulations apply is situate thereon or therein, and, if he finds or they find any such apparatus thereon or therein, to examine and test it with a view to determine whether it does or does not comply with the requirement applicable to it under these regulations.

7. (1) The requirement referred to in regulations 3 and 4 is that the apparatus shall be so designed, constructed, assembled and installed, and that such precautions shall be taken in relation to it (by means of the fitting of suppressors or otherwise), as to ensure— Requirement.

- (a) that the noise voltage at the electric supply line terminals of the apparatus when it is used at any frequency within the defined frequency range does not exceed the given number (if any) of microvolts for that frequency range:

Provided that this sub-paragraph shall not apply in respect of any apparatus that is designed for connexion at its terminals to a distribution system having a declared voltage between conductors greater than 750 volts or a declared voltage between any one conductor and earth greater than 375 volts; and

- (b) that the field-strength of the electro-magnetic energy radiated in any direction from the apparatus when it is used at any frequency within the defined frequency range does not exceed the given number (if any) of microvolts per metre for that frequency range at any distance of not less than the given distance for the same frequency range.
- (2) (a) In paragraph (1), "the defined frequency range" means, in relation to any apparatus, the frequency range or, where there is more than one, any of the frequency ranges specified in either the third or the sixth column of the Schedule for the class and sub-division, if any, of the class (indicated in the first column of the Schedule) to which the apparatus belongs according as to whether the expression is used in respect of noise voltage at electric supply line terminals or in respect of field-strength of radiated electro-magnetic energy. Schedule.
- (b) In sub-paragraph (a) of paragraph (1) "the given number (if any) of microvolts" means, in relation to any apparatus belonging to any class or sub-division of a class indicated in the first column of the Schedule, the number (if any) of microvolts specified in the second column of the Schedule for that class or sub-division.

(c) In sub-paragraph (b) of paragraph (1)—

“the given number (if any) of microvolts per metre” means, in relation to any apparatus belonging to any class or sub-division of a class indicated in the first column of the Schedule, the number (if any) of microvolts per metre specified in the fourth column of the Schedule for that class or sub-division; and

“the given distance” means, in relation to any apparatus belonging to any class or sub-division of a class indicated in the first column of the Schedule, the distance specified or referred to in the fifth column of the Schedule for that class or sub-division.

Measurement and computation of noise voltage and field-strength.

8. For the purposes of these regulations and the measurement and computation of noise voltage and field-strength of radiated electromagnetic energy—

- (a) the Authority shall be the sole authority by which measurements are made; and
- (b) the Authority shall determine the measuring apparatus to be used, the method by which and conditions under which tests are to be made and the manner to be used in computing noise voltage and field-strength from readings afforded by the measuring apparatus; and shall supply to any person applying therefor, information as to any of the matters referred to in this paragraph.

Deliberate interference.

9. (1) Any person who uses any apparatus for the purpose of interfering with the working of any apparatus for telecommunication shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine of two thousand dollars and to imprisonment for twelve months.

(2) This regulation shall apply whether or not the apparatus is an apparatus within any class specified in regulation 2, and, if within any such class, whether or not it complies with the requirement referred to in regulation 7, and whether or not any notice under regulation 5 has been given with respect to it or, if given, has been varied or revoked.

Amendment of Schedule.

10. (1) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (2), the Authority may from time to time, by order published in the Gazette, amend the particulars specified in the second, third, fourth, fifth or sixth column of the Schedule, or insert new particulars therein, in respect of any class of apparatus specified in paragraph (1) of regulation 2.

(2) No order shall be made under paragraph (1) without the prior approval of the Governor in Council if the effect of such order would be to impose, for or in respect of any class of apparatus, a limit of interference in respect of which no recommendation has been made by, or a limit of interference which would tolerate less interference than the tolerable limits indicated by the recommendation of, the International Special Committee on Radio Interference (Comité international spécial des perturbations radio-électriques) for or in respect of such class.

(3) For the purpose of regulation 3 (but not for the purpose of any other provision of these regulations unless so provided in the order), an order made under this regulation shall not come into operation before the expiry of a period of six months, or such longer period as may be specified therein, from the date of publication of the order in the Gazette.

Clerk of Councils.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
6th September, 1966.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport).

These regulations prescribe the requirement to be complied with in relation to apparatus belonging to certain classes of apparatus (which are specified in regulation 2), for the purpose of ensuring that such apparatus do not cause undue electrical or radiated interference with the working of apparatus for telecommunication.

2. Regulation 3 applies to apparatus which, after the expiry of six months from the date of publication of these regulations in the Gazette, is, in the course of business, to be sold or offered or advertised for sale (except for export), or let on hire or offered or advertised for letting on hire, or installed, by or on behalf of the manufacturer, assembler or importer. In respect of any such apparatus, the manufacturer, assembler or importer, and, where he operates through an agent in the Colony, the agent, must ensure that the apparatus complies with the requirement of regulation 7; otherwise, he will be guilty of an offence.

3. Regulation 4 applies to the use, within the Colony, of any apparatus to which these regulations apply, and imposes on the user the obligation to ensure that the apparatus complies with the requirement of regulation 7. In the case of the ignition apparatus of an internal combustion engine, non-compliance with that requirement after the expiry of twelve months from the publication of these regulations in the Gazette, will constitute an offence. In other cases, non-compliance will not by itself constitute an offence but will be grounds upon which a notice may be served under regulation 5 prohibiting further use of the apparatus.

4. Regulation 5 lays down the circumstances and manner in which a notice may be served by the Telecommunications Authority prohibiting the further use of any apparatus, and in limited cases enables the Authority to seal the apparatus and remove a part of it so as to ensure that it is not used. The Authority has the power subsequently to revoke or vary any such notice. Any person who, knowing that a notice is in force in respect of an apparatus, uses the apparatus in contravention of the notice commits an offence unless it is made to appear to the court that an application had been made to have the notice revoked and that the Authority, without reasonable cause, had failed or neglected to revoke it within a reasonable time.

5. Regulation 6 enables warrants to be obtained, where necessary, to enter and search premises, vessels, aircraft or vehicles and to test apparatus found on the search to determine whether or not such apparatus complies with these regulations.

6. Regulation 7, and the Schedule to which it refers, prescribes the requirement, in terms of the maximum permitted electrical supply line terminal noise voltage and the maximum permitted field-strength of radiated electromagnetic energy.

7. Regulation 8 constitutes the Telecommunications Authority as the sole authority by which measurements are to be made and provides that he shall determine the measuring apparatus to be used and other matters relating to testing apparatus.

8. Regulation 9 prohibits deliberate interference with the working of apparatus for telecommunication.

9. Regulation 10 confers upon the Authority the power to amend the Schedule in certain respects.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
20th September, 1966.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the order, but is intended to indicate its general purport).

This order lists in the Schedules all current pensionable posts together with the dates from which pensionability first attached to them. The posts are listed according to those dates and not in order of seniority. The Pensionable Offices Order 1964 (L.N. 169/64) is cancelled but this cancellation does not affect the pensionability of persons, if any, who held offices declared as pensionable under that order for so long as they continue in those offices, even though such offices are not declared pensionable in the new order.

8. (1) The Director may at any time in writing served personally or sent by post call upon any person who has lodged an import or export declaration pursuant to paragraph (1) of regulation 4 or paragraph (1) of regulation 5 to verify any particulars given in the declaration by the production of documentary evidence or by statutory declaration or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the Director.

Assessment of extra charges
in certain circumstances, penalties and appeals.

9. (1) Where the Director has reason to believe that the value or aggregate value of any article or articles in relation to which an import or export declaration has been lodged pursuant to paragraph (1) of regulation 4 or paragraph (1) of regulation 5 has been understated therein to such extent as to reduce the amount of the charge which would otherwise have been payable under regulation 7, he shall assess the extra charge which would have been payable under that regulation

if the value or aggregate value of the article or articles had not been understated in the declaration, and shall in writing served personally or sent by post notify the person who lodged the declaration accordingly and demand from him payment of such extra charge together with such penalty (amounting to not more than twenty times such extra charge) as the Director sees fit to impose, and, subject to the decision of the Governor in Council on any appeal under paragraph (4), such extra charge or, where varied on such an appeal, such extra charge as varied and such penalty (if any) or, where varied on such an appeal, such penalty as varied shall be a civil debt due to the Crown:

Provided that no penalty imposed under this paragraph shall exceed five thousand dollars.

(2) In assessing an extra charge under paragraph (1), if the actual value of the article or articles upon which such assessment depends is unknown to the Director and cannot reasonably be ascertained by him, he shall assess the value or aggregate value of the article or articles at such amount as in his opinion represents a fair value for such article or articles, and the extra charge under paragraph (1) shall be assessed on the basis of such value or aggregate value.

(3) Any person who is dissatisfied with an assessment of the Director or the imposition of a penalty under this regulation may, within twenty-one days after receipt of the notification under paragraph (1) respecting such assessment, or within such longer period as the Governor in Council may in any particular case allow, and on payment of the extra charge and of the penalty (if any) in conformity with the demand therefor, appeal by petition to the Governor in Council against such assessment or penalty, and the decision of the Governor in Council thereon shall be final.

(4) On any appeal under paragraph (3) the Governor in Council may uphold, cancel, increase or reduce the assessment appealed against and uphold, cancel, increase or reduce the penalty (if any) appealed against or, where no penalty was imposed by the Director, may, on any appeal under paragraph (3) against an assessment, impose a penalty, but no penalty shall be imposed or increased of or to an amount exceeding twenty times the extra charge payable in accordance with the decision of the Governor in Council under this paragraph, and, where the extra charge is reduced to the extent that the penalty (if any) exceeds twenty times such extra charge, such penalty, unless further reduced, shall be reduced to an amount equivalent to twenty times such extra charge:

Provided that no penalty upheld, increased, reduced or imposed under this paragraph shall exceed five thousand dollars.

(5) Written notice of the decision of the Governor in Council on any appeal under this regulation shall be given to the petitioner, and where the extra charge assessed by the Director or the penalty (if any) imposed by the Director is cancelled or reduced by the Governor in Council, the extra charge or the penalty, or, as the case may be, the excess of the extra charge or the excess of the penalty paid shall forthwith be repaid to the petitioner.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the regulations but is intended to indicate their general purport).

These regulations revoke, and replace with similar provisions, the Registration (Imports and Exports) Regulations (Laws of Hong Kong, Vol. VIII, p. 304), save as follows:—

1. By regulation 7 a charge is levied in respect of each import declaration and export declaration lodged with the Director of Commerce and Industry. Except in the case of import declarations relating to articles classified under section 0 (Food and Live Animals) of the Hong Kong Imports and Exports Classification List where the charge is at the flat rate of $2 per declaration, the charge is calculated on the value of the goods declared in the declaration at the rate of $2 for the first $4,000 value and 50 cents for each additional $1,000 value or part thereof. This is in place of the $2 stamp duty hitherto payable. Verification of particulars given in declarations may be called for (reg. 8), and where, by undervaluing goods, less than the appropriate charge is paid, the balance, together with a penalty not exceeding twenty times the balance, may subsequently be demanded, subject however to an appeal to the Governor in Council (reg. 9).

2. Regulation 3 specifies the goods that are exempted from the requirement to lodge declarations, some of which are new exemptions. The exemption relating to articles sent by post is preserved except in the case of packets the contents of which amount to $4,000 or more in value.

3. The provisions in the revoked regulations requiring the transfer of control of ships or aircraft and the quantities of certain goods in warehouses and similar places to be notified to the Director are omitted.

4. By regulation 12 certain protection from disclosure of information and documents obtained under these regulations is conferred.

5. Penalties for offences under the regulations are more specifically dealt with, and in some cases increased.

6. Other changes, of less significance, are made.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
 18th October, 1966.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport).

These regulations revoke and replace Part III of the Medical Practitioners (Registration and Disciplinary Procedure) Regulations 1957 regulating the procedure to be followed in relation to complaints made and information received concerning registered medical practitioners prior to an inquiry by the Medical Council therein in the exercise of its disciplinary powers under Part IV of the Medical Registration Ordinance 1957.

2. The general effect of these regulations is to relieve the Registrar of the functions hitherto performed by him in relation to such complaints and information. These functions are now performed by the Secretary of the Council and the Chairman of the Preliminary Investigation Committee (hereinafter referred to as the Committee). This amendment ensures that the Director of Medical and Health Services who is both Registrar and Chairman of the Medical Council shall not be concerned with complaints or informations before they have been referred to the Medical Council by the Committee.

3. Under the new procedure where a complaint is made or information is received by the Secretary of the Council the Secretary refers the matter to the Chairman of the Committee who, unless it appears to him that the complaint or information is frivolous or groundless and should not proceed further, directs that the matter be referred to the Committee for its consideration.

4. Regulation 11 amends the procedure with regard to cases of conduct. It provides that where the Chairman of the Committee is of opinion that a complaint or information gives rise to a question whether a registered medical practitioner has been guilty of infamous conduct in any professional respect he may require it to be formulated in writing setting out the grounds thereof and, except where it is in writing under the hand of a public officer or the President of the Hong Kong Chinese Medical Association, supported by one or more statutory declarations as to the facts of the case.

5. The Committee which hitherto consisted of members of the Medical Council now consists of one member of the Medical Council elected by the Council and two registered medical practitioners resident in the Colony who are not members of the Medical Council nominated by the Hong Kong Branch of the British Medical Association and the Hong Kong Chinese Medical Association and appointed by the Director.

6. Paragraphs (4), (5) and (6) of regulation 9 are new provisions. Under paragraph (4) persons may be elected or appointed to be temporarily members of the Committee where permanent members are temporarily unable to perform their functions. Under paragraph (5) a member whose membership of the Committee terminates whilst it is considering any case shall continue to be a member of the Committee for the purposes of the consideration of that case until the Committee has discharged its functions in regard to the case. Under paragraph (6) a member of the Committee may resign by written notice to the Secretary or Director, but he may be required to continue to act as member for the purposes of the consideration of any case being considered by the Committee at the time of his resignation.

7. Paragraph (4) of regulation 29 has been amended to provide that the Secretary of the Council shall not be present when the Council votes on any matter during an inquiry.

Amendment of regulation 97.
 7. Regulation 103 of the principal regulations is revoked and replaced by the following—

Clerk of Councils.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
18th October, 1966.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport).

Regulation 76 is revoked with the result that buses in the New Territories other than New Kowloon will no longer be required to carry first aid dressings.

2. The amendments to regulations 87, 94 and 94A are required because the permitted laden weight of a goods vehicle is now shown in the vehicle registration book and not on its vehicle licence.

3. The amendment to regulation 97 makes stricter provisions relating to loads carried by vehicles. Previously regulation 97(1) required a load to be so secured “that danger was not likely to be caused”. The regulation has now been widened in scope to cover such cases as dust and building debris falling or escaping from a vehicle.

4. Regulation 103 has been reworded and the defences formerly contained in this regulation have been deleted. The omission of defences is similar to the position which exists in the United Kingdom (cf. S.I. 1963/1646 r. 80).

5. Regulation 112A has been added making it an offence to open a car door on a road where injury or danger might be caused to any person by such action.

6. Regulation 165 has been amended to make a contravention of regulations 97, 103 and 112A an offence under the Road Traffic (Construction and Use) Regulations 1956.
