COUNCIL CHAMBER,

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport).

In 1949 a Committee was appointed to inquire into and advise the Government concerning the administration of the Dangerous Goods Ordinance, 1873, and regulations made thereunder, and other Ordinances and regulations dealing with dangerous goods. These recommendations were set out in draft regulations which were summarized and explained in a report and which were partially implemented by the Dangerous Goods (Classification) Regulations, 1956, and the Dangerous Goods (Shipping) Regulations, 1956. These regulations deal generally with the possession, storage, conveyance and packing of dangerous goods and complete the legislation giving effect to the Committee's recommendations.

2. The regulations contain twelve Parts as follows—

Part I deals with introductory matters.

Parts II to X contain provisions relating to particular categories of dangerous goods, each Part dealing with one of the nine categories set out in the Dangerous Goods (Classification) Regulations, 1956.

Part XI contains provisions relating to laboratory chemicals and medicinal preparations, the requirements for these substances being less stringent than those relating to the separate ingredients.

Part XII contains general provisions relating to dangerous goods, including a list of prohibited goods referred to in section 5A of the Dangerous Goods Ordinance, 1956, (regulation 378) and a table of exemptions (regulation 379). The provisions of the Dangerous Goods Regulations, 1940, and of the regulations and rules made under the Celluloid and Cinematograph Film Ordinance, 1923, and the Gunpowder and Fireworks Ordinance, 1901, are superseded by these regulations and are revoked (regulation 387).

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
28th November, 1962.

Explanatory Note.

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport).

The purpose of these by-laws is to provide for the proper administration of wholesale Fish Markets controlled by the Fish Marketing Organization.

2. By-laws 11 to 17 make detailed provisions for the registration of persons who will be entitled to make purchases at a market, the conditions of registration, and the removal of names from the register in certain circumstances; provision is also made for a person who is not registered to make purchases through an employee of the Organization. While primarily designed for wholesale fish dealers, it is also intended that representatives of institutions such as hospitals should be enabled to purchase fish at a market.

3. By-laws 18 to 22 make provisions for the methods of sale and payment at a market. It is intended that sales will be by way of auction, although by-law 18 enables other methods of sale to be adopted. By-law 21 lays down a fixed rate of commission to be charged by the Organization for the services provided by them in respect of sales.

4. By-law 23 establishes a machinery for appeal to the Organization and is designed to give a fisherman or fish dealer a remedy against any exercise of the manager's discretion which might interfere with his means of livelihood.

The earth system shall be such that the voltage to ground from the earth terminal of the radio receiver shall not exceed 40 volts R.M.S. under fault conditions.
6. The apparatus and this Licence shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times by a duly authorized officer of the Telecommunications Authority.
