NEW FIRE WARNING SYSTEM INTRODUCED

A fire danger warning system, aimed at making people aware of fire risk, came into effect today.

Introducing the new system, a Government spokesman said that experts at the Royal Observatory and the Fire Services Department will keep a close check on weather conditions affecting fire danger and issue appropriate warnings to the public.

The fire warning is divided into two classes.

1. A YELLOW fire danger warning will be issued to warn the public that everything which will burn is dried out, and the risk of fire is greatly increased. Any outbreak will spread rapidly. More than twice the normal number of fires can be expected.
2. A RED fire danger warning will be issued when the situation is worse and the danger is extreme. By this stage both urban and country areas will be tinder-dry, and the merest spark will start a blaze which will spread with lightning speed. It could be completely out of control before help arrives. More than five times the normal number of fires can be expected. Every possible precaution should be taken.

These warnings will be publicised on all television and radio weather bulletins as well as all newspaper weather forecasts.

/They

They will also be displayed at all major ferry terminals, Fire Services and other major public buildings and by announcements or displays at a number of public places such as cinemas.

The spokesman said the new system should be treated with as great a respect as Hong Kong's tropical cyclone warning signals.

The threat of death and damage by fire is at least as great as the danger posed by a typhoon. The risk is particularly strong because of the big concentration of population and buildings.

He said the most important weather condition which has a direct bearing on fires is the humidity level.

During the autumn and winter months, the humidity in Hong Kong falls off sharply and everything that will burn -- indoors or outdoors -- dries out.

The situation is aggravated by the number of dry days and the amount of sunshine at the time.

In these circumstances, a fire will start very easily.

The spokesman compared the fire risk in the hot and cold months.

In the summer months, he said, when the average humidity is normally above 80 per cent, the Fire Services Department puts out an average of 240 fires a month.

In the winter, when the average humidity falls to 65 per cent, they will be called to some 750 fires.

As the humidity drops further, the incidence of fire increases sharply and a 58 per cent reading is quite often accompanied by about 1,200 fires.

The spokesman said: "Every year, thousands of serious fires break out in Hong Kong. Every year, fires kill -- in the 1971-72 year, 250 people died. And every year, tens of millions of dollars worth of property are destroyed by fire."

"Virtually all of this could be easily avoided. All fires are caused by carelessness or neglect. Simple precautions can prevent any outbreak of fire in your home or where you work," he added.

The spokesman urged the public to dial 999 and ask for the Fire Services whenever they see a fire or suspect there is a fire.

Should they want free advice on fire protection for their property, or are worried about dangers at their home or work, he said, they should contact the Fire Prevention Bureau Enquiries Centre or get in touch with any fire station. The service is available at any hour of the day or night, every day of the year.

FURTHER DEVELOPMENT AT OI MAN ESTATE

Roads, drainage facilities and a new bus terminus will be added to three low cost housing blocks now being built at the Oi Man Estate in Ho Man Tin.

The estate, set on a 21-acre site overlooking Princess Margaret Road, will provide accommodation for some 46,000 people on completion in 1975.

It is the tenth estate to be built by the Housing Authority and its second largest.

A feature of the road system, which will serve the occupants of the 2000 units planned in phase one, is the way they join various service roads at the rear of the shop premises.

A three-lane bus terminus will also be built in the heart of the estate.

Some 15,000 people are expected to move into Oi Man at the end of next year, when phase one is completed.

REWARD FOR RAINSTORM BRAVERY

A staff member of the Urban Services Department will be rewarded this week for his bravery in rescuing six people from drowning in Ham Tin Village, Tsuen Wan, during the June rainstorms.

Mr. Chan Sum, a foreman class III, will receive a watch from the Tsuen Wan Rural Committee in a brief ceremony on Wednesday (October 11).

On June 17 this year, six people were trapped inside a building flooded by heavy rains in the low lying Ham Tin Village. Mr. Chan Sum showed a total disregard for his own safety and swam to their rescue.

The presentation will be made by Mr. Chan Po-fong, chairman of the rural committee and chairman of the urban services sub-committee of the Heung Yee Kuk, at the rural committee office in Tsuen Wan.

The ceremony will also be attended by Mr. David Lan, Assistant Director of Urban Services (New Territories).

Note to Editors: The presentation ceremony will take place at 11 a.m. on Wednesday at the Tsuen Wan Rural Committee office at 277, Sha Tsui Road, first floor, Tsuen Wan. You are cordially invited to have the event covered.

MRS. ROWE VISITS ABERDEEN REHABILITATION CENTRE

Mrs. G.T. Rowe, wife of the Director of Social Welfare, continuing her visits to welfare agencies, spent more than an hour this morning visiting the Aberdeen Rehabilitation Centre in Wong Chuk Hang.

She was again accompanied by Mrs. Evelyn Doe, Principal Social Welfare Officer, West Kowloon District Office. They were shown around the centre by the Superintendent, Mr. Ku Choon-keong.

The centre is a government institution run by the Social Welfare Department and supported out of public funds.

It has a total area of about 188,000 sq. feet, located in a rural setting, and is the first government rehabilitation centre to provide various facilities for the disabled. It was completed in 1964.

Its main purpose is to make possible social and vocational rehabilitation, with particular emphasis on vocational training. Efforts are made to adjust the residents to their disability and to encourage them to pass on from the role of dependent individuals to that of independent productive workers.

The Centre consists of 11 blocks of two to three-storey concrete buildings, five of which are used as dormitories, two as staff quarters, two for training, one for administration offices and a clinic and one for the kitchen and dining hall.

The maximum capacity is 410, with the orthopaedically-disabled comprising the largest group.

The other categories of disabled include the blind, the deaf, cured leprosy patients, non-active victims of tuberculosis, discharged mental patients, and the mentally retarded.

A centre for mentally retarded children, although housed in separate blocks with its own classrooms, accommodation and dining facilities, is also under the direct supervision of the superintendent.

VISIT OF H.R.H. PRINCESS ALEXANDRAAND THE HON. ANGUS OGILVYPress Arrangements

Press arrangements for the visit of Her Royal Highness Princess Alexandra and the Hon. Angus Ogilvy, from October 21 to October 26, have now been completed.

Wherever possible, open Press facilities will be provided, but where space is limited a pool system will have to be operated for photographers. This will apply particularly at functions which take place inside buildings. When this is necessary, G.I.S. will undertake the photography and all photographs will be freely available to all news media.

Use of Flashlights

Editors are advised that the use of flashlights should be avoided wherever possible. Flashlights must never be used closer than twelve to fifteen feet from Her Royal Highness. For most outdoor functions, the use of fast film will give adequate results.

Every effort has been made to avoid imposing restrictions on the number of reporters attending any function but, if the number of pressmen attending any given function exceeds manageable proportions, the Information Services Department reserves the right to limit the numbers.

/Accreditation

Monday, October 9, 1972

Accreditation

All members of the Press (which, for the purpose of the Princess' visit includes reporters, photographers, newsreel cameramen, broadcast commentators) will be accredited for the visit. Identification of press representatives will be by means of coloured lapel badges. The appropriate lapel badge for each individual function must be worn. This is to assist in the identification of Press representatives and to ensure that they receive every possible facility to carry out their work.

Transport

For most official functions, the Information Services Department will provide transport which will be clearly identified. To enable Press parties to arrive at appointed destinations in good time, the departure times will be strictly observed and transport will not wait for late arrivals.

For convenience, press transport for Kowloon and New Territories functions will leave from Kowloon Public Pier and return to the same place. Transport on Hong Kong Island will leave from Queen's Pier and return there afterwards.

Application Forms

Application forms for the different functions of the visit are attached. Editors are advised to complete these forms and return them to the Visit Press Officer, Information Services Department, Beaconsfield House, top floor, Queen's Road Central by 12 noon on Saturday, October 14, 1972.

Editors are also advised to retain the summary of Press arrangements and the set of sketch plans enclosed for briefing their reporters and photographers assigned to cover the various engagements. Further copies of these Press arrangement summaries and sketch plans are available from the Press Room on the sixth floor of Beaconsfield House.
